

HOT RUNNING BLOOD

LOW, HEAVY – ALPINE DESERT ROCK – WITH 70s PAINTWORK

NEW AGE

In the wake of the tumultuous 2020s, a wave of change swept over HOT RUNNING BLOOD, bringing with it fresh faces and innovative sounds. Shedding the constraints of a four-piece formation, the band embarked on a journey of musical exploration, reimagining old classics and crafting new sonic landscapes.

Their reformation opened doors to newfound creative freedoms, resulting in a collection of new song material, which they will now release as a new album. So HRB calls out to their audience with a simple question: Are you ready?

MIDDLE AGES

Transporting us back to the vibrant tapestry of the 2010s, HRB's saga unfolds amidst the release of their second album in 2013. The next year, they embarked on a thrilling European tour alongside Karma To Burn (US), showcasing their magnetic stage presence to audiences far and wide. The pinnacle of their journey came in 2015 when they graced the legendary Montreux Jazz Festival stage.

Yet, despite all their achievements, change loomed on the horizon. By 2018, as their third album dawned, HRB found themselves navigating through the turbulence of lineup changes. Still, their story was far from over...

DARK AGES

Cast your gaze back to the enigmatic era before 2012, where the origins of HRB lay shrouded in mystery and whispers of the past. Little remains known of this bygone time, save for fragmented memories passed down by former bandmates and allies.

Yet, amidst the fog of uncertainty, tales emerge of a debut album released sometime between 2008 and 2010, thrusting HRB into the limelight with a captivating performance at the revered 2011 Gurten Festival. Some speak of whispers of an EP that preceded this monumental debut, hinting at a hidden chapter in the band's genesis.
